An owner on one of our audits had a 25% show rate. Their fix was rewriting the sales script.

A script only matters once someone shows up. At a 25% show rate, 3 out of every 4 booked calls never hear it.

The real problem was how hard the setters were working to get people to the call. Nobody had looked at that number.

Before you change anything, ask which number is actually broken. Then fix that one.
